Local Draft Board Organized Ready To Send Greetings

General Policies Are Announced By Morris, Mead and Jones

At its organization meeting, the local draft board declared several policies for the general guidance of its deliberations, and among them is one which things support of the universal military training program now being urged in Washington.

One is based on the assumption that when an age group is reached and is about to be finished, all persons in that age group unless placed in a deferred category by regulations of the Selective Service is liable to military service. To effect this, all registrants when time comes for physical examination will be sent for that physical examination. This will determine if the individual is acceptable physically. The application for deferment is to be considered, it will take its due course. If the registrant is found to be physically unfit, no deferment consideration is necessary.

Occupational deferments made on the basis of "vital necessity" to the general health and defense program, must clearly show "vital necessity."

The following are the regulations rigidly to be followed by each registrant of equal treatment under all conditions.

The breaking up of a home with dependents, or a manifestly inequitable economic condition that might be remedied through a delay in induction will be given serious consideration.

Luther Jones was selected as Chairman, as first in a rotation program, George Meade as Secretary and meetings were set tentatively at each first and third Tuesday night to be held in the Johnson Building on South Main Street.

The question of those boys who are not automatically in a deferred classification was discussed and all unit commanders.

A blank is being aimed way up in Yankee country this week. The Red Lake country of Minnesota is storming around with its thunder. Although it is understandable that every section in the world and every part of every section must have something to boast about being the biggest, the greatest, the most of or the best, we can not overlook this particular claim.

Labor Situation Hits Balance Here In Supply Demand

Current Picture May Change Depending on Variable Conditions

The predicted serious labor shortage in the Glades section failed to materialize this week as supply and demand balanced. But the balance is a delicate one, A. M. Larrimore, manager of the State Employment office says, with so many variable factors influencing the labor available and that needed for this section.

The pending labor crisis was relieved to some extent by two crews of colored cotton pickers from Mississippi which were brought into the area this week by employment office reports.

Estimated totals on employment office records show that laborers employed in food processing and packing houses increased 150 during the last two weeks of February, jumping from 1200 to 1350 and that of migrant agricultural workers increased from an estimated 6855 to 7650 in the area from Canal Point to Clewiston.

In about two weeks farm hands employed on east coast farms will migrate into the Glades section for work as the coastal season slackens. Many of these workers will commute to the section from coastal cities.

Also many crews from this area which have been working on the coast throughout the heavy season, will find employment in their own section.

Governing the future situation are various immigration of labor and severity of the housing situation, employment officials say.

Working closely with the local labor problems are Thomas Griffith and James Forchion, who were employed by the State Employment Office earlier this month. Griffith works with vegetable packing and keeping track of labor needs among trying to meet them. Forchion works in placing labor of the Okeechobee camp and colored sections.

Prices soared again at the Glades Livestock Market Monday following a market of no sales the week before.

Highlights of the sale were 20 Hereford steers weighing an average of more than 1000 pounds and selling for $34.00 each. Records show that 216 cattle sold for an average of $23.73.

The Livestock Market has been running feeding tests on 20 Hereford steers and morning reports gains varying from 95 to 190 pounds in 74 days. They advise cattlemen to eliminate unprofitable feeders from their stock as they get them.

BUT FOR 10 CENT DOSE OF BLACKE VACCINE THE $175 CALF IS LOST

The cost of neglecting to vaccinate calves for black leg disease was clearly illustrated here this week, reports Dr. Clarence Kidder, veterinarian.

One calf valued at $175 died of black leg out of a group of approximately a hundred on a local ranch. The cattle owner checked back through the records and discovered that he mistake the calf was the only one in the group which had not been vaccinated.

For the lack of a ten cent dose of the vaccine, 175 dollars worth of veal was lost, Dr. Kidder points out, emphasizing the importance of vaccinating every calf in this section.

The organic muscle soil serves as a perfect harboring place for the microbe, Dr. Kidder says.

Big Contracts Let In FCD Program

The army engineers announced the awarding of a contract Monday for $1,317,282 for the construction of a levee from the head of the St. Lucie Canal on Lake Okeechobee southeastward to the West Palm Beach Canal as part of the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control project.

The contract went to the Lee Construction Co., Manning, S.C. Following it, the engineers awarded a $1,470,882 contract Tuesday to the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control project.

The announcement was made by Sen. Spessard Holland, when he told reporters the contract for the first time brings Dade county into the flood picture. He said a large part of the project is in Broward county.

The levee will give complete protection north of the Tamiami Trail to Dade and Broward counties.

Bids will be opened April 16 for levee 30 to continue the project from the Tamiami Trail to the Hillsboro Canal will be opened May 1.

Bids for construction of a part of levee 40 from the West Palm Beach Canal to the Hillsboro Canal will be opened May 1.

FIELD TO SPEAK ON RDB MANUFACTURER PROGRAM

H. S. Hinton, chairman of the manufacturers division of the County Resources and Development Board, urges members and RDB directors to attend the Industrial Clinic scheduled Monday and Tuesday nights at 8 in the George Washington Hotel in West Palm Beach.

The organization's regular meeting was postponed last Wednesday.

Arthur Field, director of the Charleston, S. C., Industrial Development Board, will lecture Monday and answer questions Tuesday, Hinton says.

The division voted to ask Field to meet with them during a recent discussion.

Hinton urges all who are interested in the promotion of county industries and establishment of new manufacturing plants to attend.

AND "TIME MARCHES ON-N-N-N"

Miss Nadine Raulerson (now Mrs. Joe Cherry Jr.) raised this Brahman steer on her father's ranch west of Canal Point because of its weight of 845 pounds for a total of $383.85.

When the Belle Glade Auction Market opened, a transplanted sand-rancher of 30 years local residence, determined he would buy this steer. Fellow well-wishers of the market ran the bidding up to 20 1/2 cents for what Hinton said should have been a 22 cent animal. But he bought it and put it on his ranch east of Belle Glade. That was May 26 of 1950.

On the 25th of February he sold this animal thru the Market for 35 1/2 cents a weight of 845 pounds for a total of $383.85.

This animal, sold shortly following the most extreme winter in 39 years in the Glades, went thru the entire period on Glades pasture, with a small amount of supplemental feed.

The animal is native-born—the girl is a native—her purchaser is a native—and Colonel Cooper eases over to get some of our money by selling from one native to another.

Roberts to Head Defense Council

Mayor W. F. Crider appointed Emmett Roberts, director of the Belle Glade Housing Authority, as deputy director of operations of the Civil Defense Council.

Roberts replaces T. R. Allen who is leaving the city soon.

The new director announced for the first time that he will start each month with a first aid instruction here naming Roy Litchfield and W. C. Taylor registrars in charge of the white and colored programs respectively.

The goal, Roberts states, is to have a beginner first aid course start each month with the first scheduled in approximately two weeks. Classes should include a minimum of 15 persons.

Those interested in the courses should contact Litchfield at the high school or W. C. Taylor at the County Elks during the two-day stay.

On Friday the 23rd the National Leader will be at Ft. Myers.

The Marines believe in thorough complete training," says DeVere. "Marine Corps leaders, nearly 90% of whom have come from the ranks, know that the trained Marine is the efficient Marine."

The Marine sergeant explained that male recruits remain at "boot camp" for eight weeks, while women receive six weeks training. At the end of the instruction period, both are granted ten-day leaves.

The Elks Youth Center building will receive the corner stone.

Mrs. Kyle will be attended officially and socially by ladies of the County Elks during the two-day stay.

Water Plant Smells Of Fresh Paint

As Inside And Out Are Refined

The smell of fresh paint is strong around the city water plant, for the entire building has been done in warm grey and white within the last several months.

And a man is still painting, according to Clarence Troop, plant superintendent. Every time anything is done, paint is used.

From chlorination, chemical and control rooms on the basement level up to the testing room on the top floor, the plant, which supplies the city water, is being repainted.

500 gallons of purified water per minute, boasts a neat, clean paint coat in the newly chosen department shade.

And the grounds show evidence of a recent beautification and clean up program. The landscaping and the clearing of scattered rock gardens included.

Growers Curtail Operations Due To Rail Car Shortage

Demoralized Market, Cause For Refrigerated Car Scarcity

The refrigerated freight car shortage grew tighter this week and railroad officials attribute it in part to the general demoralized produce market on practically all commodities except cabbage.

Tuesday Glades growers reported the gravest shortage felt yet in the situation which started about three weeks ago. Between ten and 12 cars a day of sharp curtailment in their activities.

Records show that 380 cars went out from Wednesday to Friday with four left Wednesday night, according to R. E. Hotard, Florida East Coast traffic agent.

Actually we could have utilized about 500 cars easily. Although special trains have been coming in every day from Ft. Pierce they only carry between 25 and 50 which could use 100 daily now," Hotard says.

According to past records only about 400 cars went out of the section the same last year, although twenty more than left this week.

Hotard forecasts some relief as the situation is expected to ease a little next week.

Cabbage is still top on the produce market although declining to $3 for crates and $2.75 for sacks. Included in a demoralized market are escarole, cut only on order, celery, $1.25 to $2.00 depending on size and grade and radishes falling to .70 and .80 with the opening of Carolina and Texas markets.

Cabbage is bringing a crop of production at .85 to .90 for hampers. Growers are beginning to harvest the spring bean crop. Between ten and 12 cars a day of fair quality produce bringing $1.75 to $3 are leaving the section a day.

Sweet corn harvesting will begin the first of next week. Continued on page 4

GLADES HAS SHARE OF MILLION DOLLAR CROP

The Glades has a healthy share of the state's million-dollar crop, grass.

At least that was the label given it by Director Willard M. Pifford of the University of Florida Agricultural Experiment station at agronomy field day there last week.

He pointed out to the over 300 farmers attending the average annual income from farm marketings of Florida Cattle during the period was more than $20,000,000 and "Grass" was the principal material used in production of the animals that brought in that income.

Pifford recognized the improvements in herds through breeding, in management and in pastures. He pointed to the increasing use of pangloss, balis and plants tested and released from experiment stations.

FLORIDA NATL BANK

$25 savings bond for first prize, a $10 savings account for second this week, the contest offers a place and a $5 account for third, bank officials say.

The advertisements will continue through June 1 after which other series will continue. The program is designed to awake and develop the public's interest and knowledge in their state.

Contest entries can choose eight of the twelve advertisements in the paper and write between 100 and 300 word themes on the subject presented in them. These should be compiled into a scrap book, contest judges will be selected. Contest details will be announced later by Miss Jean Martin, English instructor.

Contest judges will be entirely disconnected from the bank or school, officials state. The advertising series will feature interesting facts in Florida history and will range from the "first railroad" to the "oldest schoolhouse," which will be the subject next week.

The bank and school urge the public to watch for the advertisements each week for the facts of interest concerning Florida.

Woman's Club Will Sponsor Benefit Card Party Wed.

The regular meeting of the Belle Glade Woman's Club was held March 7, at Community Club house. Mrs. George Williams gave the devotionals, using the Bible as her subject.

Mrs. P. C. Dooley, finance chairman, reported that due to a drop in attendance at the Kindergarten, the Club is having to help finance the project. She asked members to assist by contacting parents who might be interested in enrolling their children.

A benefit card party to be held March 21, at the Municipal Country Club, beginning at 1:30 was announced by Mrs. Dooley. This party will replace the regular meeting and proceeds will go to the Kindergarten.

Resignations of Mrs. B. Lee Hayman and Mrs. Bryant McLendon were accepted with regrets.

A program of piano music, including "Moonlight Sonata" and "Claire-de-Lune" was presented by Mrs. Luther Jones. Mrs. H. D. Beck, literature chairman, reviewed the new historical novel "Fort Ever glades" written by Frank C. Slaughter.

Mrs. Ralph Freeman was chairman of hostesses, assisted by Mrs. P. M. Mackey, Mrs. Jack Ballard and Mrs. John McKenzie.

KINDERGARTEN SEEKS INCREASED ENROLLMENT

Kindergartens offer valuable preschool training and this schooling is available to local children through the Woman's Club sponsored kindergarten held in the primary building of the Methodist Church, according to Mrs. P. C. Dooley, project chairman.

Miss Myrtice Gilman, qualified kindergarten teacher who has had a varied background of school and playground supervision experience, is in charge of the group of approximately 13 children from 8:30 a. m. until 12 noon. The training is provided by the community by the Woman's Club for three dollars a week per child.

The next three months of the program will be especially beneficial to children in this age bracket, says Mrs. Dooley, "and we'd like to bring kindergarten enrollment up to a minimum of twenty."

Records show that preschool training has proved extremely valuable and that children with this background are further advanced than those without it. Parents wishing to enroll their children should contact Mrs. Dooley by phoning 2788 or Miss Gilman at the kindergarten.

STABILIZATION OFFICE REGISTERS SLAUGHTERERS

The Atlanta Region of the Office of Price Stabilization has taken steps to register and establish quotas for livestock slaughterers in five southeastern states and has issued a word of warning that suppliers must continue to furnish meat to institutions or face loss of the right to sell to other customers. George D. Patterson, Jr., regional director of the Office of Price Stabilization, pointed out that this agency had just begun mailing forms to over 1800 livestock slaughterers in five states, requiring them to register and furnish pertinent information designed to insure the normal distribution of meat. Then complaints from institutional users grew serious enough

'51 CHRYSLER WINS SPEED TITLE AT 100 MPH

Tom McCall, featured automotive writer for "Mechanic Illustrated" (center), receives a trophy emblematic of the 1951 car, modified stock-car record from Bill France, President of the National Association for Stock Car Auto Racing. The record of 100.12 miles per hour was made at Daytona Beach, Fla., in a Chrysler New Yorker four-door sedan, powered by the new 180-horsepower V-8 Firepower engine. McCall ended the trials on the spur of the moment with a car that had been driven only 400 miles and had been given a special tune-up. W. Brewster Shaw, Jr., Chrysler dealer in Daytona Beach, shows standing at the right, leaned him the vehicle, taking it off the showroom floor.

gave written notice to their suppliers of the amount, quality, and types of meat bought from them in 1950. Included in the notice will be information on the number of persons fed during the month for which notice is given. Suppliers are given a formula for figuring the quantities they must supply, designed to insure that on a per-person basis approximately the same amounts will be made available in 1951 as in 1950. Meat of the same or comparable type and quality must be supplied.

A supplier who, after proper notice, still refuses to sell or transfer meat to his regular institutional customer is prohibited from selling or transferring any meat until he has complied with the order. This prohibition is in addition to any action, penalties, or proceedings which may be authorized by law for failure to comply.

An institutional user is defined as "any operator of a prison, jail, insane asylum, home for delinquents, or other institution of involuntary confinement, or a public or private establishment principally engaged in the care and treatment is in addition to any action, of the sick.

Co. Commission To Cut Down Welfare Cases' Hospital Time

Efforts to determine what County Commissioners described as "seemingly a lack of effort by local hospitals to cooperate in keeping county patients' hospitalization stays to an absolute minimum" were undertaken by the board Monday when authorized Dr. W. E. VanLandingham, county health officer, to discuss this matter with the hospitals' respective chiefs of staff and boards of governors.

Dr. VanLandingham reported to the board that "county patients are spending greater hospitalized periods than we consider necessary without causing any possible jeopardy to their care of safety."

He told the board that "with the new rate for county patients, which is $13 per day, it will be impossible to extend for such patients the average length of hospitalization continues as it is presently."

That at Good Samaritan Hospital, the 21 county patients average 7 1/2 days; St. Mary's Hospital 18 patients average 12 and two thirds days, and at Pine Ridge (Negro) Hospital, 18 patients average 11 days.

Describing the present $13 rate as "practically impossible for us," Dr. VanLandingham told Commissioners that "since we're paying this profitable rate, I feel we have a right to ask each of the hospitals that county patients be released as soon as possible without jeopardizing their health."

Present rate was agreed upon by the Commission and the respective boards of governors of the local hospitals, at which time, Commissioner Lake Lytal pointed out, "the boards promised us their full cooperation."

Both the Commission, in its recent letter to the hospitals and Dr. VanLandingham termed the actions as "a lack of effort to cooperate."
